Chas. L. Davis in "Alvin Joslin" drew a good house at the matinee Christmas afternoon, while in the evening, the theatre contained the largest audience of the season, over 300 people being unable to get inside at all. The play has been altered some, for the better, since its presentation here last season. The company are fully competent to handle the material given them to work upon, while the ochestra was superb.

Chas. L. Davis, of "Alvin Joslin" fame, entertained the members of his company at a banquet at Sweet's hotel after they had filled themselves with Mine Host Johnson's good things, they were ushered into the parfor, where they found a Christmas tree awaiting them, with $2,500 worth of presents distributed among its branches. Besid a these Mr. Davis presented his wife with a check for $1.000 and an elegant gold watch studded with diamonds.

A SECOND MERRY CHRISTMAS. The Sunday School so Happy in Giving is Made Happy in Receiving. The members of Park Congregational Sunday school filled the basement rooms again last evening in a Christmas celebration. Last Sunday night they gathered to give many of their cherished treasures to the poor; last evening they met to be the recipients of tokens of remembrance. The exercises were chiefly by members of the school, and many of them were new and novel. Thirteen bright young girls in white aprons, old-fashioned neck scarfs and caps, gave a "doll drill." Their children were the same age and size, as were the maids, and keeping time with the music they went through all the various exercises usually performed by a new daddy and a teething babe. Another interesting exercise was the "merry band of workers" that represented nearly every calling and avocation in costume, and with an appropriate verse. Rev. Mr. Powell gave a characteristic lecture upon Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus that proved highly entertaining to the children. Rev. Mr. Merriam, the pastor, followed with new explanations. proving that he knew more about the illusco-worker, and finished by introducing Mr. St. Nicholas, Mrs. St. Nicholas and all the little Nicks. The family, clad in oddly-fashioned robes, entered with arms full of baskets, boxes and bundles for the children. These presents were duly distributed and the exercises closed with a song by the school. PERSONAL.

The Minstrels.

It should be borne in mind that Thatcher. Primrose & West's Minstrels will appear at Powers's next Monday evening. In addition to the hilarious fun of the minstrels proper, the famous athlete, William Muldoon, will give Greek and Roman statue-posing. Among the burnt cork array are such celebrities as George Thatcher, George H. Primrose, William West, Billy Rice, Frank Mc-Nish and George H. Edwards.

Yesterday's Detroit Post says: Thatcher, Primrose & West's Minstrels packed the Detroit Opera House twice yesterday to their own satisfaction and gave performances which highly delighted the audiences. Both the olio and the specialty business were excellent, and the singing was particularly

THE CHILDREN'S BANQUET.

The Unitarian Sunday School is Visited by Good St. Nicholas.

The Unitarian Society and Sunday School neld their first Christmas entertainment at Luce's hall last evening. A large number were present, especially of the little ones. and the evening was spent happily. The first feature was a banquet, richly spread, and every child was carefully provided for. The curtain then was raised, displaying a handsome, snugly built log cottage; the oldfashioned fire place and chimney was there, the stockings arranged along the mantle. Old Santa Claus, wrapped in fur and bearing a pack stored full of good things, came slowly down the chimney. He had a package for every child in the room, and all were merry in receiving the same from his hands. After this part of the program was finished the children were given free use of the hall for an hour, to run loose and unrestrained. When order was again restored Prof. Bayne arranged a program of dancing, and with good music old and young joined in the various numbers until a late hour.

Piano to be Given Away.

It has been stated by certain competitors through advertisements and in conversation with people that the Sohmer piano is a "second-class" and an "inferior" instrument. In order to give them a chance to substantiate these statements publicly I will make the following offer:

If these parties will bring competent authority and proof that the Sohmer is not a "first-class" piano in tone, action, material, workmanship and durability—in fact in every respect—I will give the finest piano at my store to a worthy musical society of this city free of charge.

This offer I will hold open for the next thirty days. In the meantime I invite the public to call at my store to examine the Sohmer, which is the standard of excellence.
